

Tooraweenah Show October 21 – Something For Everyone! More pages 6 & 7

This year the Show has amazing things for everyone. Pooka the clown, left proudly sponsored by Beyond 21 real estate will be doing shows through out the day. He does wonderful magic and Balloon twisting for the kids so make sure you watch and get your free balloon animal.

There is the Jumping castles from Mackie Entertainment and a Mechanical Bull from Inflatable's R us.

The Market stalls will be running all day, with something for everyone!

Lots of food will be available from the P & C, CWA, Tooraweenah and Gular Lions offering a variety of delicious choices. The Bar will run as always and is a great place to catch up for a chat. Make Sure you find Barry Chandler to guess the weight of the fat sheep.

There might even be a truck and car show, so definitely something to please everyone who attends.

*Don't forget to keep your eye on our social media for more information via face book and Instagram, and, check out pages 6 and 7 for a Chat about Carbon plus the program, schedule and entry details.

Gary White – 12 Handlers & Their Dogs

The Tooraweenah Show Society hosted the second Gary White dog training school for 2023 during September and a full booking of 12 handlers and dogs took to the yards and paddock at Colpa.

This school was a bit different than the first in that it went for a second day and allowed the handlers to progress to some harder situations than we would encounter outside in the paddock.

Attendees included a mix of new starters, as well as handlers who had attended the first school and wanted to move on to some harder drills.

Tooraweenah Preschool, 'Developing Wings of Independence' Marie Gale (Jacobsen)

What a great term 3 we have had at Tooraweenah Preschool! We have been busy with Grandparents and Friends Day with Tooraweenah Public School, Father's Day surprises, visits from Gulargambone Preschool friends and a fun day out at the Tooraweenah Emu Farm. We also wore our best smiles ever for our preschool photos with Kirsty.

Morning tea together

We have enjoyed two visits from friends from Gulargambone Preschool, with friends enjoying a fun play in our playground on the first visit and a wonderful day together when we all went on our final Bush Preschool session together. We are so fortunate to be able to access Tooraweenah Creek and surrounds easily and discover changes and things in the natural environment. We also test our skills when balancing on the logs – even the wobbly ones, as well as climbing up the steep 'mountains', then running down the 'circuit' track that the children have established with speed and confidence.

We thank our parent helpers for joining us each week, enabling us to enjoy this fun experience 'beyond our gate'. It is very exciting to find yabby claws, listen to the frogs and see the various birds along the creek. We were thrilled to bring back some tadpole eggs with Miss Gina's help and watch them hatch the next week in our fish tank - there were so many! Unfortunately they didn't survive more than a week, however they certainly had us fascinated.

We've recently practiced our emergency drills and these sparked some very interesting discussions about staying safe and keeping each other safe. This also extended to our Bush Preschool ventures – especially as the weather has been heating up and we need to keep watch knowing how to stay safe if we ever come across a snake anywhere, at any time.

We had a wonderful time visiting 'Thea's Emu Farm' and having Tooraweenah Public School friends join us. A big thank you to our bus driver Brad.

Lots of fun at the Emu Farm!

We loved patting the baby emus and discovering lots of new things from Thea's Mum and Grandma. We fed the bigger emus some salt bush and patted them through the fence: some even thought our hats were food! We laughed as we watched them run up and down the fence and we listened to them 'talk' to each other. Thea also had many other animals that we all enjoyed looking at, including her goats, chooks, and even a rock wallaby! Thank you to Thea and all of your family for such a great day out – both School and Preschool had a fabulous time.

The Tooraweenah Show will be here before we know it, so that's our next big event. Preschool will be there with a display in the pavilion and also selling show bags again – you'll find us at our very impressive new Tooraweenah Preschool marquee!

Gular Preschool don't have a Bush Preschool program and wanted to come and check it out – such a perfect opportunity when we are nearby and even 'share' children. We had the best day ever together!

Generally we do this in terms 2 and 3 for 'snake safety' and then today we had a hot day! Our parent helper, dad Dan Harte, joined us again and he manned the shovel: we had a snake at school yesterday afternoon and with this sudden hot weather, we were all on the look out! (Even the children were 'drilled' about what to do if someone says in a "loud and proud" voice the words "Stop! Freeze!". We had a few practice runs at this before we left and thankfully we didn't see any reptiles or unwanted creatures today!)

Our preschoolers all made friends quickly and easily and everyone had such a lovely day – there are a lot of tired children (and some tired teachers) this afternoon who will all sleep well tonight!

Wishing everyone a happy and safe school holiday period. We look forward to seeing our preschool friends, including some new friends, in Term 4 which commences on Wednesday October.11th and wanted to move on to some harder drills.

Gary started as before with the basics to start a working dog, with a talk on the why's and how's of starting off and backed the talk up with a demonstration of how to get the dogs balancing their stock, working their different sides and most importantly a proper stop.

Tooraweenah CWA Chatter!

What a wonderful month we have had commencing with our Branch Meeting on September 13th in combination with CWA Awareness Day which focused on Neurodiverse conditions including ADHD, Autism, Dyslexia and Tourette syndrome.

How fortunate we were to have a very special Guest Speaker, Janelle Quilter, attend. Janelle shared the knowledge she had gained over 19 years, working with these very special children and their families.

Our next activity for the month was our International Day on September 21st. Denise Quealy, our International Officer handled proceedings for the afternoon.

Associated Country Women of the World (ACWW) and their work was in focus, rather than a particular country this year. Tooraweenah School Principal, teachers and students, along with some visiting pre-service teachers attended. Photo: Bottom left.

Everyone then shared a delicious afternoon tea.

Our final catering for the year will be the Show on October, 21st. Everything to be finalised following our AGM on Wednesday October 11th; 9.30am for 10am start.

All subs are now due to be paid to our Treasurer Anne prior to our AGM. Thank you.

Toora Bungles Celebrates — 30 Years Of Community Spirit!

Toora Bungles - 30 Years Young!

This month we celebrate the 30th Birthday of the Toora Bungles Community Newsletter. A BIG SHOUTOUT and THANKS to Lester, all our Advertisers, TCTC volunteers, contributors, supporters, donors, Council, and Editors, who have all done an outstanding job over 30 Years, to keep the Bungles pumping! How wonderful it has been to produce the Bungles in full colour these last few years.

Did you see the Note on page 2 September issue? No! Just a gentle reminder then, the current Editor will move forward from December 2024. Please ponder, is there a continuing future for the Bungles? Extra advertisers and Editors would be needed.

Continue production, but only place it online? Consider establishing a Tooraweenah Web Site? Could the community groups subscribe to promote their activities and events, to keep it viable? What ideas do you have? What will happen to the TCTC? Is the Toora Bungles relevant in 2024? Lots to consider!

August 2024. Just 10 months to decide. Invoices will go out during October and November to our current advertisers and subscribers, seeking their ongoing support for the 2024 publications.

If we loose any advertisers, the Bungles may fold by December 2023!

If you know of any new businesses who may wish to advertise that would be wonderful.

Have your say:

New Flagpoles

Next time you visit Tooraweenah PS you may notice two new flagpoles near our school sign. We are very thankful to Scott Quilter for his attention to detail in installing these new flagpoles. They look fantastic!

SASS Recognition Week

School Support Recognition Week was celebrated in Week 8. This was an opportunity for us to celebrate the contributions of our school administrative and support staff (SASS) including Mrs Maureen Altmann (SAM), Mrs Janelle Quilter (SLSO), Mr Daniel Harte and Mr Scott Quilter (GA). We know how important SASS and other non-teaching staff are to a school. You take pride in your work, are the friendly face in the office, help our students learn, and maintain our facilities and grounds. Your work daily is pivotal to our school and your efforts are greatly appreciated.

Lion King Jnr

Our school travelled to Warren in August to view a live show at St Mary's Parish School. The performance of the Lion King Junior was nothing short of spectacular. We would like to send our wholehearted congratulations to the students and staff of St Mary's Parish School Warren, who put together this spectacular performance. We are very thankful to the P&C for providing bus transport costs to extend the experiences of our students to enjoy and reflect on story telling through live theatre.

Transition to School

Our transition students have attended school each Monday during Term 3 and are feeling very confident in the Kindergarten classroom. We look forward to welcoming back our transition students to school on Monday October 9th, the first day for Term 4. Transition sessions are scheduled for the first 5 weeks of term

4, concluding on the 6th November. There will be a parent information session for Kindergarten 2024 students on Monday October 23rd at 2pm. Our transition students have been learning all about our classroom routines over the past 9 weeks and greatly enjoying participating in 'big school' activities. We have been playing lots of games, practicing fine motor skills and enjoying many stories.

Baradine Public Speaking Competition

Students travelled to Baradine to participate in the Baradine Interschool Public Speaking competition with St Johns, Baradine, and Gwabegar Public School. The teachers were very proud of the way students conducted themselves at this event and were particularly pleased to see all the students do their best at speaking to a live audience. Three of our students, Hamish Jenkin, Xander French-Hughes and Maddison Jenkin made it to the finals in their respective age groups and a special congratulations to Maddison, pictured above left, who came 2nd (Runner-Up) in her group. A wonderful outcome for these students. Congratulations to Hamish, Xander and Maddison on their individual achievements and also to all the students in contributing to the competition by travelling to Baradine and participating. We would like to say thank you to St Johns Baradine for their organisation of this event and a big thank you to the parents for supporting their children by travelling with them to Baradine and being a part of the audience.

Emu Logic Farm Excursion

Billy, feeding the Emu Salt Bush.

All our students, together with Mrs Barry and Mrs Altmann, joined with Tooraweenah Preschool students and travelled by coach to the Emu Logic Farm. Everyone enjoyed the talks and explanations of how they collect the emu eggs, keep them warm in a big incubator, monitor them until they hatch and then transfer them to a small enclosure with a long, narrow area where the chicks can run. Students noticed the chicks were very fluffy and learned that they have stripes when small but these disappear as they get older. They all got to either hold or gently pat some of the baby emus which was very special.

The bigger enclosure held the 1-year-old emus and also the breeding stock who came to the fence to greet us all.

Mrs Henley picked lots of salt bush for everyone to hand feed the emus and they loved this treat.

Mr Henley shared, that emus will eat just about anything but they especially like salt bush. Many of the students patted them through the fence and they occasionally had a little peck of our hats but soon realized that our hats weren't food. We would like to thank Miss Marie and the preschoolers for inviting us to join them for this fun excursion and thank Mr and Mrs Henley and Nicole and Dan Harte for showing us around their lovely, friendly farm.

Technology Challenges

These included upside down towers, hour-glasses, elephants and castles, they created lots of opportunities for design using trial and error. It was pleasing to hear of student's resilience and persistence to complete these tasks! Thank you to parents as well as Preschool staff and grandparents who all contributed in sending cardboard cereal boxes and rolls for these activities. Lots of hands on persistence was needed to achieve the standard built by our students, who proudly displayed their castles, complete with a working draw bridge, sized perfectly to allow a 'teddy' to come inside.

District Athletics

Congratulations to Sam Trickey and Hamish Jenkin who represented our school and Dubbo/Wellington Small Schools at the District Athletics Carnival. Both boys showed resilience and a competitive spirit in their events. Sam placed 1st in his discus event with an impressive throw of 22.57m, beating his Small Schools' throw of 20.03 by more than 2 metres. He also competed in shot put. Hamish competed in the 8yrs 100 metre event. Congratulations to both of you for representing Tooraweenah Public School at this year's District Athletics.

Western Athletics

In a field of over 30 junior boys, Sam Trickey competed in the Western Athletics Trials for discus. We are thrilled to report that Sam placed 6th with a series of very competitive throws. Congratulations, Sam!

R U OK? Day

During September, students participated in lessons on how to be an active listener when asking someone R U OK? Mrs Peart was very impressed during role play activities where students practiced how to become a Listening Legend! All students went home with their Listening Legend badges and some skills to share with their families.

A huge congratulations to Maddison Jenkin who was the winner of the Cover Design for this year's Tooraweenah Show Schedule. Maddison has won a prize of $50, sponsored by Ryan & Rankmore Chartered Accountants.

Positive Behaviour for Learning (PBL) Celebration

Students enjoyed a whole school party after lunchtime on Friday the last day of Term, for their PBL Celebration. Students have collectively earned 6000 class dojo points for their whole school reward.

Beyond the Line

We were very excited to welcome some visitors to our school last Thursday of the term to learn more about opportunities for teachers in regional, rural and remote schools. Six Pre-service teachers came to Tooraweenah Public School and spent time in the classrooms and learnt more about small schools in locations such as ours. We really enjoyed discussing all the benefits of living in rural communities, sharing our passion for teaching, as well as highlighting the opportunities for building a rewarding career in rural NSW.
