Relevant Legislation

- Local Government Act 1993, Under Section 68 of the LGA persons are required to obtain Council approval to:
 - ◊ "Erect an advertising structure over a public road, or expose or allow to be exposed (whether for sale or otherwise) any article in or on or so as to overhang any part of the road, or having an article beneath an awning over the road"
 - ◊ "Use a standing vehicle or any article for the purpose of selling any article in a public place".
- Roads Act 1993, Under Section 125 "a Council may grant an approval that allows a person who conducts a restaurant adjacent to a footway of a public road to use part of the footway for the purposes of the restaurant".

If structures are erected in the footway for ancillary purposes for a footway dining, then it is reasonably foreseeable that a person, whether or not a customer of the food business, may suffer injury or damage as a consequence of the food business activities. It is therefore imperative that Council establish a Policy which provides for the approval of footpath dining and other similar activities of street trading.

Under Section 139A a roads authority may approve the erection of a structure in, on or over a public road in a built-up area connected with the purpose of selling any article or service. This approval may be subject to conditions including the charging of rent and specifying the period of consent. Under Section 142, the person who has right to the control, use or benefit of a structure erected on a road must maintain the structure in a satisfactory state of repair.

Council has power under Section 139C to revoke a street trading consent whether due to a breach of condition(s) of consent or a change in traffic or other road safety circumstances.
